Thousand Palms Chamber Backs CVAPC Action

THOUSAND PALMS — The Thousand Palms Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the request of the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Commission asking that the State of California halt its acquisition of Salton Sea private lands.

The CVAPC has demanded that the state's Division of Beaches and Parks halt its acquisition — by purchase or condemnation — of additional property at the resort area.

The meeting, held at the home of Joseph DeFea on Shelter Drive, also established June 6 as the date for the Chamber's annual dinner and installation meeting.

Scheduled to be installed in the event in Desert Moon Ranch, are Mrs. J. A. Welcome, president; Dewey Wallace, vice president; Mrs. Leslie Thomas, secretary; Elizabeth Nelson, treasurer; Larry Bowman and H. M. Lemme, two-year directors, and Helen Hyde, one-year director. Holdover directors of the Chamber are Walter Bovey and Mrs. Jack Singler.

U.S. Deejays Will Talk to Bonaires About New LP

When the Bonaire's new Bob Records album — titled "For You From Palm Springs by the Bonaires" — is released nationally on Monday, a simultaneously programmed series of nationwide interviews with the four singers will be launched from the Village.

The quartet, which opens Sunday night in the Chi Chi Starlite Room, will be on telephone to deejays throughout the nation Monday, confiding some of the secrets behind their new album, according to John Bennett, president of Bob Records.

At the same time, in the KDES Radio Studios here, general Frank Day will be playing the new album and talking with various members of the group.

His cohorts on the round-the-nation simulcast will include such deejays as Hugh LaRue, KTX, Seattle; Stan Burns, WINS, New York; Jack Gail, WTH, Baltimore; Bob Clayton, WTH, Boston; Bobby Bears, KOBY, San Francisco; Bob Forrester, WJW, Cleveland; Robin Seymour, WKMH, Detroit; Gordon Tucker, WCIV, Montgomery, Ala.; Howard Miller, WIND, Chicago, and Bill Randall, WERE, Cleveland.

If you can't pick up any of those cities, Bennett advised, better tune to KDES and get the entire story.

Cleaning by Sound

WESTBURY, N. Y. (UPI)—Ultrasonic equipment is enabling hospitals to eliminate completely manual handling of surgical instruments during cleaning.

According to its manufacturer, the Narda Ultrasonics Corp. of Westbury, the new equipment supplements steam sterilizing and removes the danger of cross-infection from human hands.

Sound waves so high that they are inaudible to the human ear have been found effective in removing even the tiniest bits of dirt from the most tenacious surfaces, which are left not only clean but sterile as well.

A "DOUBLE-KEY CEREMONY" marked the purchase of a Sunny Dunes Village home by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hilliard, center. Hilliard is manager of the men's department of the new Saks Fifth Avenue store here. He is the first Saks' Palm Springs employee to establish residence here and has worked in Saks' Beverly Hills store for 11 years. Planning to move in this August, the Hilliards were presented their twin keys by Realtor Charles E. Lyngaard, left, whose firm handled the purchase, and his salesman, Arthur Johnson, who negotiated the purchase. Lyngaard, agent for the Tom Paul-Sam Kert development, announced that all resort brokers are invited to participate.

GILBERT'S SERIOUS ABOUT HIS HUMOR

Paul Gilbert gets his paychecks for making people laugh but there's nothing funny about his philosophy of humor.

In fact, Gilbert says, the world of comedy—in night clubs, on TV, in movies, on stage shows—is a deadly serious enterprise.

"A GOOD COMEDIAN is more than an entertainer," Gilbert said last night, between shows at the Chi Chi Starlite Room where he's appearing through Saturday. "He's got to have more than one facet to his personality."

"He has to be an analyst, a philosopher and a natural talent and—added to that—he must have real courage."

"It's not easy to walk out on a stage in a club and not say 'Good evenings, lumps' to the room."

IN PALM SPRINGS, another demand arises for comics, Gilbert feels.

"For a comedian to be successful in Palm Springs," he said, "he's got to be aware of the dual nature of this audience. Part of it is local residents, part of it tourists. The material has to be general and has to fit the demands of both groups."

"There'd be no point in doing a race track gag here. There's no race track."

GILBERT IS FAIRLY definite on what he likes and does not like in the field of comedy.

His favorite comedian is Red Skelton, his favorite TV comic Sid Caesar, his favorite funnyman of memory is Fred Allen and his favorite club comic is Joe E. Lewis "when he's articulate."

Kim and Cary Dance Till Dawn; Hit of Red Party

CANNES, France — (UPI) — Kim Novak and Cary Grant danced till dawn today. Then they agreed to go to Moscow together.

The two American movie stars were the hit of a top-drawer party thrown by the Russian delegation at the film festival here. They appeared to be a hit with each other as well as they danced every step together.

Grant and Miss Novak have been constant companions since they arrived here earlier this week. Thursday night Russian officials invited both to the film festival being staged in the Soviet capital in July. They accepted — engagements permitting.

"I'll have to check whether I'm free," Miss Novak said. "But if Cary is going, then I'd love to go with him."

Before their date at the Russian party, Grant and the blonde Miss Novak went shopping for bikinis. The handsome actor advised his companion in the choice of a half dozen, but cameramen who tagged along in the hope of getting her to try one on were disappointed.

Mrs. Hoffmeier insisted that this was "unfair," because "we have heard so many different reasons." She said that "idle gossip is worse than what you can tell her here."

But the files remained closed and a few minutes later Board

Sons of Soddies To Meet Here

One of the largest of American trailer clubs — the Sons and Daughters of the Soddies, Inc. — will roar into Palm Springs on Nov. 15 for their regional fall meeting, it was announced today.

The organization, composed of persons who have had connections in one way or another with sod houses and dugouts, includes some 6,000 members gathered mostly from the plains states and Canada.

The organization is dedicated to recognition and honor for the early settlers who fashioned their homes of the soil and helped develop a new frontier.

The local office of the huge rally will be at Sun Town Trailer Park in Cathedral City, where Al Nehl is in charge of the arrangements.

Two May Go To Washington

Palm Springs City Council this week indicated that it might like to have an elected official go along with City Attorney Jerry Bunker to Washington, D.C., to appear before the Congressional committee on two Indian matters.

On June 1 and 2, Congressional Committee will hold hearings on a proposed equalization program for the Agua Caliente Indians, and another hearing on the extension of maximum leases from 50 years to 75 years.

The council indicated that Vice Mayor Ted McKinney may attend the meetings with Bunker.

Sales Tax Threat Poised Against Owners Who Sell Personal Property

Up to the present time individuals have been exempt from paying a sales tax on transactions involving the sale of items of personal property. But watch out for the shadow of the invading tax grabbers.

A threat to invade this field with additional tax levies, this time singling out the already over-taxed automobile owner, is posed in Senate Bill 801 recently introduced in the State Legislature.

That the motorist should be singled out for another large tax levy is not justifiable or equitable in view of the special group forms of heavy taxation on auto owners.

One needs only to scan details of the more than one billion dollars per year California auto owners pay in taxes to the State and Federal governments to recognize that motorists as a class provide by far the largest single source of State tax revenues.

A late yearly resume shows that the Federal government collects $190,552,000 automotive excise taxes in California in addition to a 3 cents per gallon on gasoline amounting to $149,500,000.

The State tax total collected from motorists is approximately $680,000,000 with principal items including 6 cents per gallon on gasoline, $299,000,000;

State "in lieu" Tax, $123,400,000; sales tax, $117,800,000; registration, $116,000,000; diesel tax, $18,000,000; transportation, $1,870,000; driver's license fees, $7,600,000; and several millions of dollars more in miscellaneous fees and penalties.

Thus it is plain that auto owners of California are not only paying for the support of highway development but are also contributing substantially to the State General Fund.

It is also highly probable that should a tax be imposed upon "resale" by owners of personal property, viz. an automobile, the door will be opened to apply a tax on resale of all other personal property such as household furnishings, appliances, ad infinitum.

Besides constituting double payment of a tax previously paid, taxing of private resale of such items would in effect become a multiple transactions tax of repressive nature and prohibitive proportions.

A similar undesirable proposal has been twice defeated in previous sessions of the State Legislature. It is to be hoped that it is so thoroughly trounced, and soon, that it will long remain in the limbo of the lost.

Nothing could be worse than a tax on sales by owners of personal property.

Someday He'll Have to Decide

This Side of the Sun

By Phat

Summer's still five weeks away
And it's rather warm for May.

Not that I'm changing my mind about May — it's still one of the best months on the desert. The nights are great and there are still two weeks left to uphold its reputation.

When I first came here many years ago I was told of the beauty of May and informed that every May, sometime during the month, a little heat would be necessary.

Well, I had the furnace on last Sunday. But perhaps I had better tell you — it was at the beach.

FOR SOME TIME NOW there has been nothing in any of these essays about litterbugs.

People are getting pretty good about it. They are using those trash bags in cars more and more and are carrying their used cigarette packs, gum wrappers and facial tissue to the nearest "Help Keep Palm Springs Clean" container.

Which reminds me. In the 100 block on Palm Canyon Drive there is one of those trash collectors that is hardly ever used.

IT IS SQUARELY behind a large pillar, wider than the trash can.

To get at it to do your duty in helping to keep Palm Springs clean, you either have to walk around and step into the gutter or try to squeeze in a half-foot space.

But the roadsides are much cleaner. I don't know whether it's civic pride or the threat of a fine.

THE STATE is really going all out to make our highways safer. The legislature has already passed several bills with this in view such as radar speed control, an absolute limit on speed, stricter driver license control and other laws designed to crack down on unsafe drivers and reduce the opportunity to have an accident.

Latest such law in the hopper at Sacramento is one regulating eye glasses.

This measure, passed by the assembly and sent to the senate, prohibits glasses with frame so large they interfere with lateral vision.

So don't go in for spectacular spectacles. You may be sired over to the curb while the officer measures the frames to see if they are within the law.

ZADDIE BUNKER'S assault on the sound barrier, scheduled for tomorrow, is making news across the nation.

From Jimmy Shea, head public relations man for the Friendly Southern Pacific and a former Vilager, comes a clipping from the Chicago Tribune which he saw while there this week. Zaddie had a big play along with a picture and everything — on a Trib feature page. She got a lot of publicity and so did Palm Springs.

SINCE THE VERSE that starts this sort of stutters will close with one purloined from Ben Stannard who rhymes:

"Lives of scientists oft remind us
"We can make our own sublime,
"If they don't blow up creation
"Leaving naught but space and time."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Well, what is new in the merry, merry month of May? Trouble piles up in drifts while I am away.

The tragedies and near-misses are recited to me with gusto by my teen-age daughter as we drive over the Sierra Nevada from Reno.

"And Inc. needs to be deflected! It's awful!"

INC. IS OUR DOG. Part Australian Shepherd and a little of something else — we have not decided exactly what. He is the world's only incorporated dog, holding valuable shares of a famous corporation.

The corporation was set up by me some years ago. It is famous mainly because while EVERY corporation in America has shown all-time profits, this corporation has not moved a financial muscle.

"HOW ABOUT your grades?" That is a tricky question. And there was a good deal of tricky squirming in the answer.

In the first place — without answering the query — there was a long recital. It seems that the teachers do not make themselves clear! Sometimes we think the teachers themselves do not know the answers!

Naturally, if a teacher does not know the answer, what you put down does not matter at all. She will just grade you on whether she likes you or is mad at you.

We never got around to a solid reply on the grades.

I suspect the answer is bad.

"CAN I DRIVE the car?" Driving has taken social precedence over EVERYTHING in our set.

We all have learner's permits — permits that let you drive if your parents are with you.

"Absolutely not on highways. Only on back roads."

WELL, that shows that my child has the meanest father in the world. And the amiability of other fathers was pointed out in some detail. Mr. Fizz lets his daughter drive ANYTIME she wants to — even down to the store alone!

And Mr. Fuzz practically gets down on his KNEES and BEGS his daughter to drive him down to the bus.

And Mr. Snively was — put out when his daughter did not drive him to work, he just broke down and wept.

WE ARE DRIVING into California via Highway 50. Over the passes and down the American river. We are driving an import.

A little British Singer and it fairly makes a young woman's hand itch to get at it.

Speaking of itch, one of our girl friend's cuts has ringworm and we think we have got it. Or maybe it is poison oak. That is a tender tragedy for today.

Meantime — "Can we stop at the Nut Tree? I'm starving!"

"YOU JUST HAD breakfast!" This is an amazing thing about traveling with a daughter. While they are still eating, they are planning the next meal. At the same time discussing their reducing diet.

The Nut Tree is our favorite. In our opinion the best highway place in the world. A charming maze of restaurants and shops just outside Sacramento. I am secretly in favor of this stop and we will do it.

"The fruit salad with the marshmallow topping?" I tell you, we both drool thinking about it. The diet must take a holiday.

"ANY OTHER problems?" Yes, now that I mention it. The small boy is a problem. He YELLS. He yells if he can't have whatever he wants when he wants it.

"But that is natural. Small boys always holler for what they want."

"But then he throws himself on the floor and yells."

Okay with me. This boy is not frustrated. He yells for a while. Then he takes up some other worthy pursuit. Like pursuing the dog with an ax.

THUS WE re-enter the world of reality and woe. Via marshmallow topping.

We drove right up the driveway. And it was just like she said: The dog had fleas; the boy was yelling; and the grades — well, it is obvious that somebody doesn't know the answers. I am not saying who.

EARL WILSON:

Uncle Miltie Kiddled by Pals

NEW YORK — Milton Berle did a gracious thing on my birthday a couple of years ago and now I'm going to be sweet to him. (Just see how sweet!)

His birthday (his 51st) isn't until July 12 — but the telephone he's doing here gives me an excuse to remind you that he was recently on trial here, accused of assault with a deadly weapon — his mouth.

It was a razzamajolly given by the Television Academy and Steve Allen, one of the razzers, said Milton is the only triple-threat man in the music business.

"He writes the song — he sings the song — and he buys the only copy," claimed Steve, adding that Milton would be the only composer who'd live to be unknown.

The defense "lawyer" at the make-believe trial said Milton "knows the secret of making people laugh," whereupon Arnold Stang retorted: "He sure knows how to keep a secret!"

Tallulah Bankhead was asked: "Have you ever found anything in common with Milton Berle?"

"Yes, we used to get our dresses from the same dressmaker," thundered Tallulah.

Tom Poston said Berle started a trend in TV — a trend of comedians being cancelled.

"But he DID start comedy on TV 10 years ago" persisted the "prosecutor."

"Yes," agreed Tom Poston, "and this year he finished it."

That's the brash, boisterous Berle we're always talking about — but Robert Cummings recently told me about another Berle. Few people remember that Cummings was Milton's straight man in Earl Carroll's Vanities away back in 1932, and then they went on tour.

"He'd yell at me . . . he'd beat my brains out if my timing was off . . . but he taught me a lot."

The tour ended. Cummings went to Hollywood, into radio and pictures. Ten years passed.

"In 1949," he recalled, "I was in trouble. I found myself being sued for $250,000 over a managerial dispute."

"A career can be ruined overnight. How Milton found out about it I don't know. But one night while I was sitting home I got a call. 'Hello, you silly so-and-so. This is Milton . . . Baby, I hear you're in trouble . . . Do you need any money? . . . Don't give me that, you silly so-and-so."

The tour ended. Cummings went to Hollywood, into radio and pictures. Ten years passed.

"In 1949," he recalled, "I was in trouble. I found myself being sued for $250,000 over a managerial dispute."

Best Men Both Broken

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It was a tragic-comic show — that white-faced duel between Commerce Secretary Lewis Strauss and U. S. Senator Clinton Anderson. It was the ever-rolling, non-improving enmity of two good men with the killer instinct to destroy each other.

John Galsworthy wrote a play called "Strife" in which two splendid characters, one from Labor and one from Management, tore each other and the community to bits, to the profit of none. Near the final curtain there is this speech which could have been written about the Strauss-Anderson conflict: ". . . the two best men both broken! . . . All this — all this — and — and for what?"

MARK TWAIN in "Huckleberry Finn" tells of a bloody Arkansas feud which caused many deaths but the reason for which its principals on both sides had long forgotten. We hold "peace" conferences between mighty nations, we build grandiose temples to "peace," like the impressive UN building in New York.

Yet we watch with no surprise, considering it quite normal, when two elderly tycoon-statesmen engage in a "you're-a-liar" and "you're-another" contest which could easily cause one or both to keel over with a stroke or a heart attack.

THIS REPORTER watched nearly the whole of the running battle from a place where he could see both men's faces. The antagonists, both up in their 60's, both graced with wealth and honors, both with wives in the same social circle, both first-name friends in the past, could not have exhibited more loathing if they had been Hitler and Stalin meeting in Hades.

Strauss would grimace with pain, smite his brow, stage-whisper in protest while Anderson read the scroll of "falsehoods" which were charged against the Secretary. Anderson would wince, roll his long frame in agony, whisper instructions to his committee spokesman, Gale McGee, when the Secretary rebutted the charges.

STRAUSS' RUDDY face went gray, his lips trembled, his voice broke during his counterattack upon the Senator. Anderson's sagacious, friendly countenance turned savage with fury and pallid with frustration as the Secretary poured on the sarcasm.

It was a fight with too many referees, too many kibitzers, and not enough peace-makers. Republican Senators Scott and Schoepf tried to see that their President's appointee got fair treatment in the clinches. Democratic Senators McGee and Monroney did what they could to help Anderson. Two other Democrats, to their high credit, kept insisting on a fair fight — they were Pastore and Lausche.

BUT IN ALL mercy, what was needed was somebody to take the two contestants in the back room, grab each by the wrist and force them to shake hands. For years I have made it a habit, which has greatly enriched my life with friendships, to say to colleagues with whom I have quarreled:

"Look, Freddie Othman died last year, and Tom Stokes the year before, and you or I may be next. If you insist on a quarrel, it's going to be one-sided. Life's too short." Some good friend ought to try that soothing formula on Strauss and Anderson.

There is every reason, of course, why the Senate ought to examine presidential appointments. The 89th Senate, conscious of some criticism of past instances, has been leaning over backwards to do its duty in this respect. Associate Justice Potter Stewart was thoroughly examined, and 17 Senators registered against him at the end. They were doing their duty, and the record of their disapproval will stand in the history of the Court.

BOTH STEWART and Strauss, unlike ex-Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, were recess appointments and were already in office before the Senate got around to their confirmation.

There is unwisdom in this practice and it has clearly shown up in the Stewart-Strauss examples. The President should make his major appointments while the Senate is in session, and unless there is overriding reason to do otherwise, the Senate should give much more priority to its function of advice and consent in presidential appointments.

Many Senators are inclined to vote for a dubious candidate rather than drag him from an office where he is already ensconced. But the confirmation process is getting out of hand when it becomes a personal shooting match.

Hope for First Time Turns Deaf Ears to Charity Events

Regrets Every Refusal

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of three dispatches in which ailing Bob Hope speaks frankly of the ill health which has slowed him down and perhaps may force him into early retirement.)

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—For the first time in his life Bob Hope is turning a deaf ear to most requests for charity and benefit performances, and with each refusal the comedian says he dies a little.

Only last year he said, "as long as there are sick and injured people and kids who need help, I'll play benefits."

Now he himself is too sick to lend a helping hand.

"FROM NOW ON I'll be playing a long-term Bob Hope benefit," he gaged.

Hope's quips are few and not given with his old eye-rolling rascality. He's quieter now. Less brash. His off-screen personality has changed. For most of his career he kept up a running patter both in front of the cameras and among his friends when he wasn't working.

All that has changed. He is thoughtfully resentful of not being able to dash around the country for benefits.

"I GUESS that bothers me more than anything else," he said seriously.

"I've always enjoyed performing, but most of all when I knew it was for a good cause."

"Right now I'm reserving judgment on my activities for the next year or two. During the next few months I'm taking time out to see how I feel. Lord knows, I don't have to work. The only fun I get out of life is the way I gear myself. This readjustment isn't as bad as I thought it might be."

PLEASED WITH the critical reception of his new movie, "Alias Jesse James," it may be a long time before Bob makes another picture.

He refuses to start a project unless he knows he can jump in with all cylinders: perking. He had planned to film "Somedays It's Feathers" this summer, but the comedy has been postponed indefinitely.

The comedian propped his feet up on a chair during a rehearsal break for his last TV show of the season.

BLIMEY, LIMEY: Bob Hope, born in England, seems to be enjoying his rehearsal with Joan Collins, beautiful British actress, who will be a guest on the comedian's last show of the season tonight. Rosemary Clooney, Wendell Corey and golf pro Sam Snead will also be Hope's guests.

"THIS YEAR I put together eight television shows, and guested on quite a few others," he said. "Next season I'll only do six. "I guess I knew this health thing was coming on for quite some time. So did some of my friends."

"When Y. Frank Freeman production chief at Paramount Studios said I was thinning myself out, I told him, 'I have a lot left. Don't worry about me. I'm fine.' "I should have known better."

"BUT IT'S IMPORTANT that people know I'm not dramatizing my illness. I'm going to get well, and I hope to get back into the swing of things. Not at the old pace. That's gone forever." Would Bob consider a less frenetic facet of show biz-producing, for instance? "I've never given it a thought," he said. "If and when I'm well enough to produce a show I'll be well enough to perform. There's a big difference anyhow. I feel better when I'm entertaining."

THE REHEARSAL over, Bob donned his jacket and ambled to his sleek new car. A year ago he would have been on the run for a quick nine holes at Lakeside Country Club. Instead, he was headed for home, an easy chair and a dish of ice cream.

"It's a different kind of life for me," Bob concluded. "But I'm sticking with it until I'm 100 per cent well."

"The new roads to recovery which medical science is producing are increasingly centered in the hospital," Robert Henwood, administrator of Desert Hospital, said today during National Hospital Week.

"The doctor can call upon the disciplined teamwork of many skilled professional and technical workers, and an ever-growing array of scientific tools and supplies," he pointed out.

The administrator said, "In an era of explosive growth, hospitals must depend as never before upon community support and comprehensive understanding if comprehensive services of high quality are to be made available to all people."

Desert Hospital is joining with other hospitals throughout the country in observing National Hospital Week, May 10-16. This year's theme, "More Roads to Recovery," will emphasize the increasing number of services offered by hospitals.

Kieley Elected New President Of Village Lions

F. T. (Tom) Kieley will head the Palm Springs Lions Club as president for the coming year as result of the annual election yesterday at the luncheon meeting of the club in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi.

He succeeds Charles O. MacDonald who conducted the club meetings during the past year.

OTHER OFFICERS elected were: Jack Riordan, first vice president; Shelby Langford, second vice president; Dr. Bruce Walter, third vice president; Dook Davis, secretary; Val Blatt, treasurer; Armand Turronet, Lion tamer; Warrend D. Coble, tail twister; Wayland Reynolds, Merritt Williams, Hardin Hart and Henry Cleary, directors.

The new officials will be installed at a dinner dance next Thursday night, poolside, at the Desert Inn.

Ray Cree was program chairman at yesterday's meeting at which the Society for the Preservation of Barber Shop Quartets presented a tuneful program.

Board Approves DHS Annexation

With no one present at a hearing this week before the Board of Supervisors to either protest or support the proposed enlargement of the Desert Hot Springs County Fire Protection District, the Board of Supervisors approved the proposed annexation.

County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., said he will have a resolution ready for the board's adoption next week, for formal approval action.

The first U. S. census report, made in 1790, was a booklet of 36 pages. The 1950-60 censuses of population, business, agriculture and so on will require more than 130,000 pages of statistical tables.

Court Hearing Set for Charles Sisco

Bookkeeper Charles A. Sisco, self-styled victim of the high cost of living, travels to Indio Superior Court next week to explain a $3,000 shortage in his company's book.

Sisco, 47, of Thousand Palms, is accused of falsifying bank deposit slips to "short-change" the company that employed him for the past three years.

In his appearance before Justice Court Judge Eugene Theriault yesterday, Sisco admitted the allegations and was bound over to Superior Court on grand theft charges.

Police said Sisco admitted taking an estimated $3,800 over a period of about 11 months because he was "living beyond his means." Detective Lt. Robert White said

Feed Yard Given Okeh in Reports

The Coachella Valley Feed Yard was given a clean bill of health in reports presented this week to the Board of Supervisors by Dr. Everett M. Stone, county health officer, and Tyler Suess, planning director.

The reports had been ordered by the supervisors following a complaint received last week from the Coachella City Council about odors assertedly emanating from the yard.

DR. STONE said odors are difficult to control and are spread over the area at the mercy of winds, but he said the prevailing winds are from southwest to northeast and would not ordinarily carry odors from the feed yard toward the City of Coachella.

The yard is located along Highway 111 southeast of Coachella. According to Dr. Stone the city limit closest to the feed yard is at the northwest corner of Avenue 52 and Highway 111, a distance diagonally of one-half mile from the yard. He contended that a claim by the council that the yard is adjacent to city limits is erroneous.

BOTH REPORTS were put on the board table where they may be perused at the convenience of the supervisors. That of Suess was brief, that of Dr. Stone lengthy.

Declared Suess, "It is true that at time odors and some dust emanate from the premises. This, however, is a situation which cannot be completely eliminated. Our investigation discloses that the general operation is well above the average for uses of this type and

Animal League's Swanner Fund Now Is $123

Donations swelled to $123 in the Village fund drive to help blind war veteran Tom Swanner secure a new seeing-eye dog. Palm Springs Animal Protective League officials reported today.

Swanner is now attending the Guide Dogs for the Blind Institute at San Rafael to train a replacement for his dog, "Pilot," who died from a rattlesnake bite two weeks ago.

League officials said the donations will be sent to the guide dog institute, a non-profit organization, in behalf of Swanner. Swanner operates the newsstand at Palm Springs post office.

Several donations have been sent directly to the institute by various individuals. Donors to the league-sponsored fund are Russell H. Pray, Long Beach attorney, and resort area residents Maree N. Frisby, Mrs. Albert Seip, H. M. Lautmann, Mrs. M. E. Frazier, Mrs. Walter B. Steele, Mrs. Leola Bumiller, Mrs. Robin Keating, Mrs. Thomas F. and the Animal Protective League.

we must therefore recommend that no action be taken from a zoning standpoint."

DR. STONE said the feed yard is in an agricultural district and is obviously a considerable asset to the area. He said 35 people living in the nearby communities of Coachella, Thermal and Indio are employed at the yard, and the feed company purchases as much feed as possible locally.

In reference to charges that the feed yard takes care of more cattle than their permit allows, Dr. Stone repeated his statement of last week that there is no limitation in the permit, though he said that the feed yard's application for a permit did state that a maximum of 20,000 cattle would be handled at any one time.

THERE ARE presently approximately 12,000 cattle in the yard, according to Dr. Stone's report, the usual maximum during warm months. He said that as many as 20,000 are handled during winter months.

Dr. Stone's report dwelt with the disposal of carcasses and of manure, the control of flies and of odors, the possibility of the sweeter smell of flowering hedges, and with his failure to locate Coachella's Mayor Henry Briggs following his inspection of the feed yard last Tuesday.

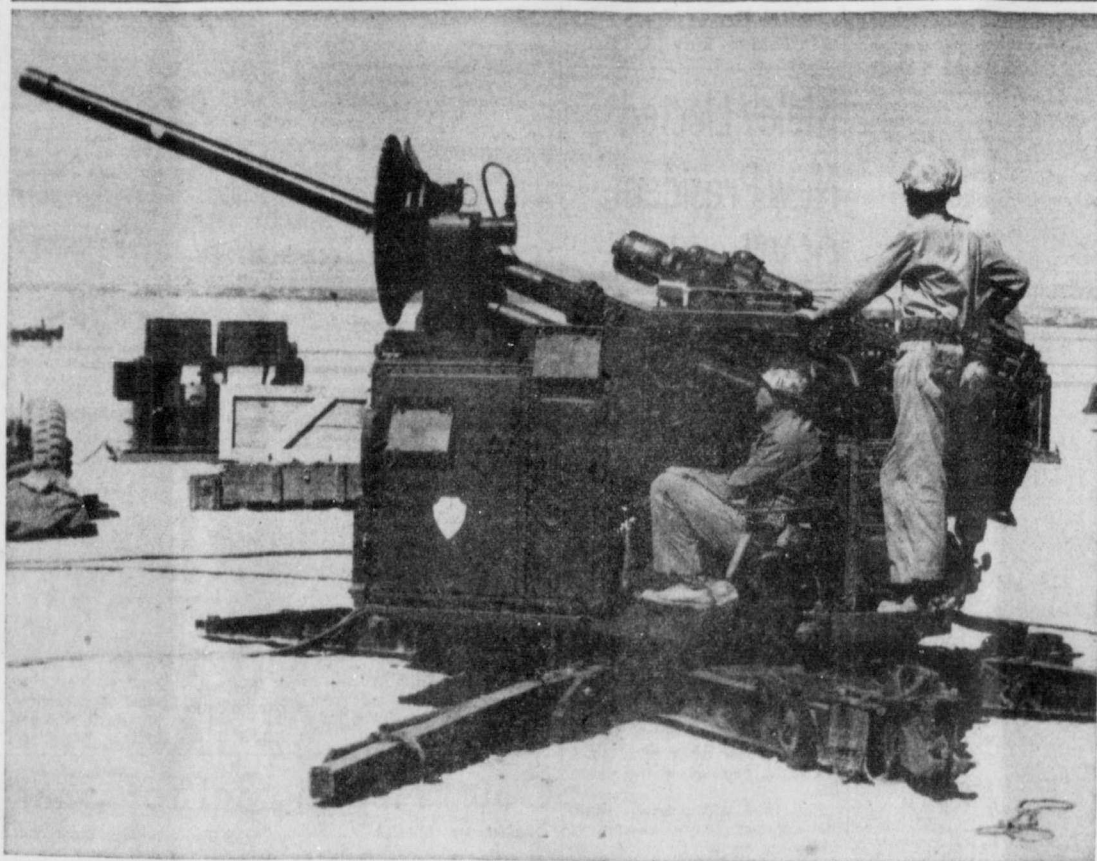

CARCASSES OF animals dying in the yard are now placed immediately in cooled, sealed trailers and hauled away at weekly intervals by a rendering plant in the Los Angeles area, according to Dr. Stone. He said there is no possibility of odors arising from this source.

As to manure, according to the health officer it is removed from the yard by a commercial fertilizer and feed company which has adequate equipment kept at the yard. Material not immediately hauled away is placed in a large compost pile at the southernmost end of the yard. He said neither he nor Chief Sanitarian Lloyd Irons, who accompanied him on the inspection tour could detect any odor rising from the compost pile, and they found it to be "very free from flies."

AS TO FLIES, according to Dr. Stone the management is following a regular program of spraying to control the fly population and has agreed at his suggestion to look into the possibility of rotating fly sprays. "Flies," said Dr. Stone, "become immune to the constant use of the same insecticide."

To determine if the flies in the city of Coachella are the same as those at the feed yard, Dr. Stone said the Bureau of Vector Control and the State Department of Public Health have agreed to make a survey of the two areas within the next two weeks.

Board Buys Two Properties In Riverside

Purchases of two properties in Riverside, one of them on the east side of Lemon Street, a block east of the courthouse, and the other on the west side of Lime Street, another block further away, were approved this week by three-to-two votes of the Board of Supervisors.

The dissenters were Supervisor Fred McCall and Supervisor William Jones. "Why not buy the entire city of Riverside?" queried Supervisor McCall, as the Lemon Street purchase quickly followed that of the Lime Street property.

"CURTIS (Supervisor Chamberlain) ought to be in the real estate business," declared Supervisor Jones after Chamberlain made the motion for the second purchase.

The Lemon Street building was offered by the real estate firm of Bohr & Mumper for $32,000. Mr. Mumper expressed approval of the county's building plan. "We are very much in favor of the county's building plan," he declared, "so we're giving up half of our commission on the deal or the price would be higher."

"I BELIEVE Curtis is getting part of the commission!" quipped Supervisor McCall.

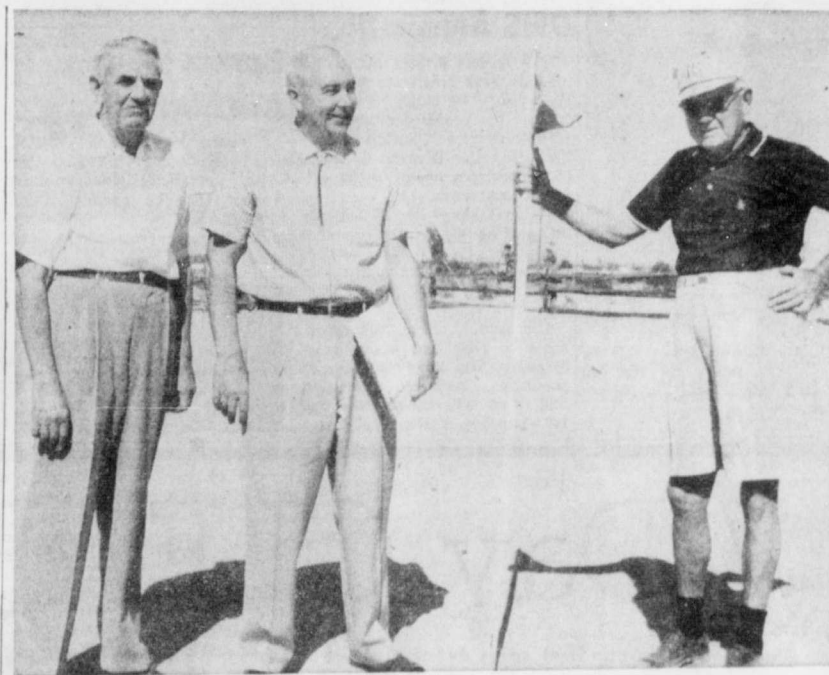

The Lime Street property was offered for sale by its owners, the Pioneer Title Insurance Co. The price was $19,000. The two properties are just south of Tenth Street.

Many observers expressed the belief that purchases of the two properties indicate that the board majority is in favor of a proposed joint county-city civic center in Riverside.

Final comment in the action was made by Supervisor Jones. Said he, "I think if the board is going to buy a lot of real estate it should be done by bond issue. Let the people decide. I hope we get out of here before we buy the Brooklyn bridge!"

Contract Given Time Extension

Palm Springs City Council this week approved an approximate one month extension to the contract for the concessionaire at Tamarisk Park. The contract will run through June 28.

POSTMASTER TELLS PUBLIC HOW TO STOP OBSCENE MAIL

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles published in the public interest on the growing threat of obscene mail and what can be done about it. This article explains how the American public can drive the dealers in obscenity out of business.)

The American public, if it wants to, can destroy the half billion dollar a year mail-order business in obscenity which is having such disastrous effects on teen-age youngsters. Postmaster Merritt Williams stated today.

The judgment as to what is obscene is actually in the hands of the citizens of Palm Springs and other communities throughout the nation, the postmaster emphasized; and the final judge in these matters is the conscience of these awakened communities.

"WE CAN clean up the mails in Palm Springs if enough citizens become aware of the seriousness of this problem and use their influence to do so," Postmaster Williams said. "We must do so to protect our homes, curb juvenile delinquency, and prevent the poisoning of the minds of our children."

All the average citizen needs do if his home is invaded by unorderly and unwanted mail soliciting the sale of filthy, lewd and lascivious films, slides, pictures or other obscene and pornographic material is to complain to the Post Office Department. This is done by mailing the objectionable material itself, and the envelope it came in, with a signed note of protest to the local postmaster.

AN INVESTIGATION is then made by the Post Office Department's Inspection Service. If their findings justify action to ban the material from the mails, the Department's General Counsel then issues such an order. If the sender of the obscene literature protests the Department's ruling, the matter may then be taken to the nearest United States District Court for decision.

Where the material in question is clearly pornographic, criminal. The nation's first temperance society was founded in 1789 by 200 Connecticut farmers who pledged "not to partake of alcoholic beverages during the harvest season."

action is usually taken by the local prosecuting authorities with the cooperation of the Post Office Department. Convictions in such cases provide for both jail and dollar fines for the dealers in obscenity.

TESTIMONY GIVEN recently in Washington by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield before the Subcommittee of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee indicates that no longer do dealers in smut and dirty pictures serve only a few adults. Instead, they are increasingly soliciting youngsters, sending their unwanted and unorderly material indiscriminately and without conscience, into the homes of the nation.

Postmaster Williams emphasized that the Post Office Department is intensifying its efforts to clean up the mails. Its chief opposition in doing so comes from those who reap huge profits from unrestricted mailings, and from some misguided individuals who confuse liberty with license, and in so doing, unwittingly give aid to these dealers in obscenity.

1959 Little League Play Gets Under Way Tonight

2 Games Slated for Opener

Seventh annual Little League season will get under way at the Polo Grounds tonight with appropriate ceremonies and two ball games.

First game, which sends the Junior Police against Hathaway-Palm Canyon Market, gets under way at 7 p.m.

At the conclusion of the first game, the opening exercises are scheduled with music by the Junior High School band and the traditional first pitch by City Manager Dan Wagner.

Second game in tonight's double-header pits Rotary Club against the Palm Springs Water Company, Lincoln-Mercury team, the fifth league entry, drew a bye tonight.

The Little League season will come to an end June 29 after three rounds of play.

The top four teams will then engage in an elimination contest starting July 3 to determine the Little League champion of 1959.

Between 75 and 100 desert area golfers were tuning up today for the 14th Annual Local Yokel golf tournament slated for next Tuesday and Wednesday at O'Donnell Golf Club.

The traditional closing tournament at the original Palm Springs golf course will crown a new low net champion this year as Paul Hodnick, defending champion, has not entered.

Hodnick said he was through with golf.

Clarence Twitchell of Thunderbird is the defending low gross champion. He shot a 66-74-140 in winning last year. Hodnick's low net last year was 128. Twitchell and Hodnick were in the Class One field, 0 to 14 handicap.

In Class Two, 15-24 handicap, Bobby Thomas won low gross with 159 and Reuben H. Fleet is defending champion in the low net bracket — shooting 137 last year.

Larry Sitter, O'Donnell Golf Club manager, is in charge of the Local Yokel tournament.

AYALA SEEDS FIRST

PARIS (UPI) — Luis Ayala of Chile has been seeded first for the elimination singles in the International Tennis Tournament of France, May 19-31.

Silky Sullivan to Race Tomorrow In L.A. Handicap

INGLEWOOD (UPI) — The late entry of unpredictable Silky Sullivan added additional color to Saturday's $50,000-added Los Angeles Handicap, which already had attracted a strong field of sprinters.

Silky, impressive in winning the Roy Campanella Purse on opening day at Hollywood Park, must contend with such top entries as Hillsdale, How Now, Alhambra, and Seaneen.

Hillsdale and How Now will share the top weight assignment in the Hollywood Park weekend headliner. But spectator interest again is expected to be focused primarily on Silky Sullivan, noted for his spectacular come-from-behind triumphs.

Lewis Scores 16th Straight Kayo Win

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — Terry Lewis, a 235-pound slugger from Spokane, knocked out Wayne Womochil in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-rounder Thursday night to post his 17th straight win — 16 of them by knockout.

U.S. Leads in Two Walker Cup Matches

Ward and Taylor Trail After 18 in First Day's Play

MURFIELD, Scotland (UPI) — The United States team led in two matches and trailed in two at the halfway in the opening 36-hole competition in the Walker Cup Golf Tournament.

Captain Charles Coe, Oklahoma City, and Billy Joe Patton, Morgantown, North Carolina, enjoyed an overwhelming 8-up lead over Michael Bonolack and Art Perowne of England after the morning 18.

BILL HYNDMAN of Arlington, Pa., and Tom Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., led Joe Carr of Ireland and Ken Wolsteholme of England, 2 up.

Harvie Ward of San Francisco and Dr. Bud Taylor of Pomona, Calif., trailed Reid Jack of Scotland and Doug Sewell of England 1 down after 18 and Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, N. Y., and Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, were 1 down to Michael Lunt and Alex Shepperson of England after 18 holes.

CAPTAIN COE, before the matches started, said this was the best American Walker team in history.

The Americans were a scant 5 to 4 favorite at the start of play.

Six Records in Danger Tonight In L.A. Relays

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A tasty track menu is on tap tonight with the nation's outstanding stars on hand for an all-out record onslaught in the 19th annual Coliseum Relays.

The entry list is headed by Olympic champs Bobby Morrow, Glenn Davis and Parry O'Brien. The floor of the giant Coliseum was made over Thursday night and early today from a baseball diamond to a track arena. Ground crews moved in to manicure the turf track and runways immediately after the Los Angeles Dodger-Pittsburgh Pirate night game.

An all-star show includes a half dozen relays and competition in almost all of the regulation individual track and field events with the exception of the javelin, the 220 and the 230 low hurdles. The meet gets under way, with the field events, at 7 p.m. p.d.t.

At least six world records are endangered.

Aaron's Bat Keeps Braves Out in Front

Stuart Homers to Give Bucs Second Win Over Dodgers

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
Stop Hank Aaron!

That's the watchword now among battered, bewildered National League pitchers who are worriedly wondering if there's any end in sight.

Aaron, currently on a 19-game hitting streak, is batting a fantastic .487 and shows no signs of let-up.

The pitchers used to say that no one ever would top Hugh Duffy's record .433 set with the Boston Braves in 1894, but now they're beginning to think Aaron has a crack at it.

The 25-year-old Milwaukee mauler enjoyed one of his typical nights Thursday night when he collected three-for-five in an 8-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals that stretched the Braves' lead to 1½ games.

AARON'S THIRD HIT, his second double of the game in the sixth inning, was the one that hurt the Cards. It came with the bases full and capped a five-run rally. Lew Burdette came in from the bullpen to throttle a three-run ninth-inning St. Louis rally and preserve Bob Rush's third victory.

Pittsburgh defeated Los Angeles 7-6; San Francisco blanked Philadelphia, 8-0, and Cincinnati beat Chicago, 2-0.

The Chicago White Sox climbed to within a half game of the American League lead with a 14-6 triumph over the Boston Red Sox; the Detroit Tigers whipped the Washington Senators, 4-2, and the Kansas City Athletics nipped the Baltimore Orioles, 2-1. The league leading Indians and Yankees were idle.

DICK STUART's ninth-inning homer snapped a 6-6 tie and gave the Pirates their victory over the Dodgers. It was Stuart's second game-winning homer in as many nights and his sixth of the season.

Bob Freind, trying for his first victory, was routed in the eighth when the Dodgers scored four runs to tie the score. Roy Face came on and picked up his sixth straight victory.

Young Mike McCormick hurled a three-hitter and Willie May clouted a three-run homer to lead the Giants to victory over the Phillies. McCormick, who scored his first victory, had a no-hitter going for 7 1/3 innings before pinch hitter Granny Hamner doubled. Ray Semproch was the loser.

Sword Dancer 2 to 1 Preakness Favorite

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — Tomy Lee, the Kentucky Derby winner, will be missing but eight horses which chased him home and three newcomers are expected to comprise a field of 11 today when the entries for Saturday's $150,000 added Preakness Stake close.

Two Games for CVSL Ball Club This Weekend

Two games are on the schedule for hard-ball baseball fans this weekend at the Polo Grounds, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

Fans who attend Saturday night's game will see a new ball, designed for night games, tried out for the first time. John Marinco, manager of the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan team which represents Palm Springs, said.

PALM SPRINGS will meet the Palencia All Stars of the San Gabriel Valley League Saturday night at 8 o'clock and a new type baseball will be tried out. The ball is covered with a fluorescent paint, much easier to see under the lights.

It will get its first test in Saturday night's game.

Sunday afternoon the CVSL team will host the Amana nine of the Los Angeles Winter League. Game time is 2 p.m.

MARINKO CALLED attention of local fans to the fact that both of these games are free and invited anyone who wishes to attend to turn out at the Polo Grounds Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The CVSL team has a 2-1 mark for play in the Winter League to date.

Broadcasts "Hurt" Soccer Game Crowd

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — A "meager" crowd of 130,000 turned out Thursday to watch Brazil defeat a touring English soccer team, 2-0. Such international matches usually attract upwards of 200,000 spectators. Radio and television were blamed for the smaller attendance.

Y.A. Tittle Signs 1959 Contract With 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Y. A. Tittle, going for his 12th campaign in the National Football League, signed his 1959 contract today with the San Francisco Forty Niners.

Open View, the ruffian who raked up the start of the Derby, already was entered when racing secretary Charles McLennan accepted entries for the second jewel in racing's triple crown.

Trainer Ray Metcalfe paid the $500 entry fee for Open View Thursday because he had to be at Garden State Park today with the rest of Elcam Stable horses. Karl Korte, who rode Open View to eighth place at Churchill Downs two weeks ago, was named as rider.

WITH 11 STARTERS the 83rd edition of the Maryland classic will be worth a total of $190,300 with a net winner's purse of $136,200 for all except Manassa Mauler.

Manassa Mauler, winner of the Wood Memorial at odds of 64 to 1, was not among the original 138 nominations for the Preakness. He was made eligible by payment of a $10,000 supplementary nomination fee. He shoots for a net purse of $126,300.

Sword Dancer, who apparently had the Kentucky Derby won when he went past Tomy Lee high on the turn into the stretch and again when he led by a length with only 50 yards to go, looms as favorite for the Preakness. This time Willie Shoemaker, who was up on the victorious Tomy Lee at Louisville, rides Sword Dancer, who was 2 to 1 in the overnight line.

EDDIE ARCARO, Preakness champion with six winners, shoots for No. 7 with First Landing, with Willie Harms on Royal Orbit, Ray Broussard on Manassa Mauler, Chris Rogers on Rico Tesio, Larry Adams on Sundown 2nd and Willie Carstens on Festival King.

The jockeys for Duncie, Our Dad and Marauder were indefinite as their owners and trainers scrambled for the best riders available.

First Landing, the juvenile champion of 1958 when he won six stakes and a record $396,469, is second choice at 3 to 1 with Royal Orbit third choice at 9 to 2.

Gardening in the Desert

If Mr. Amateur Gardener is thinking of plants that will grow anywhere, plants that fear nothing but freezing cold, too much shade or too much moisture, plants that bloom in a large variety of colors, he is probably thinking of succulents.

Some types of succulents are raised as potted plants but all succulents thrive best in the ground. Apparently they are not fussy, they grow in soil where more finicky plants would wilt away. Included under the name of succulents are such curious plants as Mexican Sedum with its light green and yellow flowers. Hens and Chickens, Echeveria Elegans, Aloe, Desert Cactus, Agave, Haworthias, and the well known Barrel Cactus.

SET ASIDE a corner of your garden for raising some of the many succulents — they can be grown from any slips and soon multiply.

They can be grown from whole leaves, divisions, offsets of a parent plant, stem cuttings and seed. Grown succulents that form clumps may be divided, each part will soon start a new clump and it will not take long to have quite a supply. Before putting the clumps in new soil they should be allowed to dry out, then planted six inches apart and level with the surrounding soil.

KNOWN UNDER no other name, as far as we can find out, Xylisma is a plant that we see little of in our desert nurseries or in desert gardens. However, we know it is hardy and will take any temperatures from the hottest desert heat to the cool of southern shores.

Its maximum height is usually about five feet, and leaves are dark green to which its yellow green foliage is a direct contrast. Its flowers are never abundant but are pleasing to the nostrils. Sun or shade makes little difference in the growing of this beauty. With a little patience it can easily be espaliered against a wall or fence.

IT IS A LITTLE late, but as an experiment try Scabiosa seeds in your garden, if possible in a slight shade. If planted in good soil and kept damp but not soggy its flowers should show up in late June or early July. These seeds can also be planted in the late fall, their growth is much slower at that time and they should be blooming in late February. Some varieties grow anything from three to eight feet in height and have blooms about three inches across.

The bloom colors are many and diverse — shades of clear blue to almost blue-black, yellow, purple, and brilliant scarlet, not forgetting the white. Scabiosa is seldom attacked by the many garden insects. If you are fond of bushy plants pinch the young plants back a few times. The higher growths will no doubt need assistance from stake support.

or, grow very fast in the desert. If not cultivated carefully they are liable to become straggly and shapeless. They become troublesome if allowed to wander so be generous with your pruning scissors, this way they can be kept in shape.

You can still plant Zinnias from seed or from flats. They thrive in the heat but when the heat's at its apex Zinnias should be given some shade. Provided with shade and watered generously you should be able to use Zinnias as cut flowers right through to Autumn.

As a closure for this week we should advise you to look at your Poinsettias; not the new cuttings that you are raising but the plants from which the cuttings were taken. By this time the latter should be profuse in leaves and the buds showing. Pinch out the first lots of blooms that are showing up, by this process you will have many more flowers in late autumn.—T.G.M.

EDGERTON TO BE SPEAKER AT MEET

J. Howard Edgerton, president of California Federal Savings and Loan Association, will be among the prominent speakers appearing at the first annual Pacific Coast Builders Conference in San Francisco July 6-9, it was announced today.

Edgerton will address the July 8 panel session of the conference at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. Several thousand homebuilders and their wives from the 11 western states are expected to attend the convention, which will be hosted by the Home Builders Council of California.

OTHER DISTINGUISHED guest speakers which John Jacobson, program chairman, has scheduled for the summer convention include Carl Mitnick, president, National Association of Home Builders; Walter Browder, editor, American Builder; and D. C. Sutherland, vice president, Bank of America.

Edgerton, who has headed California Federal Savings and Loan in Los Angeles since 1939, is past president of both the California Savings and Loan League and the United States Savings and Loan League.

A MEMBER of many civic organizations, including the Community Redevelopment Agency of the City of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Area Council of Boy Scouts, Edgerton is president of the board of directors of the Sixth District Agricultural Association, State of California; president of the board of directors, California Museum of Science and Industry; member of the board of trustees, Air Pollution Foundation of the County of Los Angeles; and member of the board of directors and vice president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

An experienced flyer since the late 1930's and holder of a commercial pilot's certificate for 17 years, he has more than 5,000 flying hours to his credit.

Edgerton, who graduated from the University of Southern California with A.B. and L.L.B. degrees, resides in Brentwood with his wife, the former Catherine Colwell. They have a daughter, Beverly, and a son, Russell.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE this week by Kirk Kirkwood, sales director for El Dorado Palms Estates, that Pacific Lenders have acquired the Braun Ranch, consisting of approximately 87 acres adjoining El Dorado Palms, for an undisclosed amount. Plans are well under way for 100 new luxury homes and estate-sized home sites in the newly acquired acreage. Well known principals in the desert area connected with Pacific Lenders, Inc., are Tom C. McMillan of McMillan Mortgage Companies and N. T. Skoglund, president of North American Life and Casualty of Minneapolis. A private eight-acre fairway connecting both Indian Wells and Eldorado Golf courses will be a part of the new development for the exclusive use of residents of El Dorado Palms Estates.

NORRIS GOFF, who is "Lum" on the perennial favorite radio program "Lum and Abner," receives the key for his new Indian Wells Country Club fairways home from Ralph Tobener, builder-president of the Ray Hoames Development Corporation of La Jolla. Looking on at left is Jack

Jaycees to Install Officers

Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its installation dinner at the Ranch Club on Thursday evening, May 21, at 8:30 p. m.

The new president of the California Junior Chamber of Commerce Scott Biddle will be among the honor guests who will also include Rex Flint, new National Director, and State Vice President for District 9, Len Gold.

Installing officer Scott Biddle will install the following officers: Jim Schlecht, president; Ted Land, first vice president; Marty Johnson, second vice president; Wayne Hoffman, treasurer; Robert S. Marx, secretary; Frank Allen, state director.

In charge of the installation dinner are Robert Schlesinger, Bill Bronstein and Frank Allen.

B'nai Brith Women Plan Installation

The second installation of Palm Springs B'nai Brith Women will take place Sunday, May 24, in the Chi Chi Starlite Room.

There will be a cocktail hour, at 5:30, with installation commencing sharp at 6:30 p. m. This will be followed by the usual delectable prime rib dinner with all the trimmings, followed by the Chi Chi show and dancing to the music of Bill Alexander and his orchestra.

Mrs. Julius Sherman, chairman of this event, expects a large attendance of members and friends. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Jack Auerbach, FA 5-7374 and Mrs. David Lager, FA 5-5796.

Alumni of Mills College Hold Election

New officers for the Mills College Alumni of the San Bernardino Riverside Area were elected Saturday at the home of Mrs. Howard Hayes of Redlands. Billie Axel of Riverside is president; Edith Powers of Palm Springs, vice president; Carolyn Thorsen of Riverside, secretary; treasurer; and Winston Ellis of Claremont, public relations chairman.

Merle Nordyke of Claremont, outgoing president, presided. It was reported that out of nine freshman applicants for Mills College, six have been accepted and two $1,400 scholarships have been awarded. There will be a Coke Party in June for these new and returning students.

It was also announced that the Fund to match the Ford Foundation Gift has been oversubscribed. The Lynn White Jr. professorship Fund of $250,000 needs a balance of $74,000 to complete its goal.

At the close of the meeting Carolyn Thorsen showed pictures of Alaska taken on her recent trip there. The next meeting of this group will be held in the fall.

Dr. Grow Named Chairman for Convention Here

Pacific Coast Oto - Ophthalmological Society, in session in Las Vegas, decided to hold its meetings in Palm Springs in April, 1961, and named Dr. Kenneth Grow of this city, as chairman for the event. Dr. Grow was also elected to the board of directors of the California Eye Council.

Dr. and Mrs. Grow, who are now home, spent a week in Las Vegas attending the meetings of the Society. Its members are specialists in the medical fields of eye, ear, nose and throat and come from the 11 Western States.

FREDDIE LETULI, well-known Simvan Fire Knife Dancer, will team up with "Manu" to present his famous dance at the annual Desert Air Luau to be held May 23. In reality, the festivities will last all day, starting with the preparation of the pig and the placing of it in the "emu." By nightfall the pig will be cooked, and ready for the feast, which is just a small part of the food served at the now famous Desert Air Luau.

Desert Air Luau Coming May 23rd

The most authentic Hawaiian Luau held in the desert—the annual Desert Air Luau—will be held Saturday, May 23, at the famed "fly-in, drive-in" hotel.

Your hosts, H. L. (Hank) Gogerty and Manager John Noyes, have planned an evening as enchanting as any south sea island luau ever was, with real Luau delicacies prepared island style for feast.

Traditionally, the pig will be prepared for the imu, and with all the pageantry and fanfare of the islands, will be made ready for the "pit" by the masters in the art of Hawaiian cookery.

Grass skirts and muumuu, Hawaiian skirts and capri pants, sandals and barefeet, are the dress for the evening, and this year's event takes on an added interest with the coming statehood to the Hawaiian Islands.

Saturday morning the pig will be prepared and placed in the imu, and in the evening, with all the Polynesian ceremonies, the pig will be lifted from the "pit" and cut for service to the 'kanes and wahines'.

A superb show has been planned for the evening, featuring such well-known native entertainers as George Kaimanui, the golden voice of Hawaii; Tani Marsh, Polynesian dancer supreme; Kahala Bay, authentic traditional Hawaiian dancer; comedian Bill Whiting; Thurston Knudson, the jungle drum maestro; and the famed Freddie Letuli and "Manu", the Samoan Fire Knife Dancers. Other Hawaiian stars build up the stellar entertainment group.

Hank Gogerty sparing no expense in literally transplanting Hawaii to California. Bamboo screens will ring the area on the famed grass landing strip at Desert Air for the Luau. Low tables,

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford
Phone FA 5-5005

It's another busy, busy weekend for Palm Springs... Tomorrow night is the Champagne y Frijoles party given each May by John and Gwen Costello at their Clancy Lane home... with guests arriving in Mexican costumes... So many people turn out for this each year... that you always hear the comment... "I didn't know there were that many people still in town"...

Saturday night too is the gigantic Shadow Mountain luau... with hundreds of people in luau costume descending on the Club to feast... and to watch the colorful show on the stage that spans the world-famous figure eight swimming pool...

Tomorrow night Ginny Simms is closing her nine day engagement at Chi Chi... and many of her friends and fans will be there for her closing show... Among those there to pay tribute to the velvety-voiced Villager... will be the Bonaires who will open there the following night...

Times have certainly changed since Grandma's Day... and as for Great-Grandma... our Zaddie is an anomaly... Combining the best qualities of the Horse-and-Buggy era with the Jet Age... she thinks in terms of flying...

It made me think of Zaddie when I read the flight schedule which will get Mrs. George A. Powers here from Garden City, Long Island for the Bonaires opening at Chi Chi Sunday night...

The mother of Tom Powers (leader of the attractive quartet) has been vacationing in Vermont... She will helicopter from the small Vermont village to a nearby airfield to board a plane for Boston... Here she steps on to a larger plane for New York... then by helicopter again to Long Island... and finally by jet to Los Angeles... where she will board Western Air Lines to Palm Springs...

Mrs. Powers will occupy a cottage at The Colony during her week's stay here... and plans to spend a few days in Beverly before returning to New York...

The Colony will be VIP's-ville of the record industry this weekend... with guests including John Vance Bennett (president of BOB and Tropic Isle Record companies)... the Mike Elliotts (he's an Allied Distributors executive)... and George Shaw with an entourage of Los Angeles record critics and disc jockeys here for the Bonaires opening at Chi Chi... which coincides with the release of their new album "For You from Palm Springs"...

Bill Alexander's orchestra is being augmented by six musicians for the Bonaire engagement...

This season... which has brought out a rash of broken hips, legs and arms... has a fresh victim... in realtor Theresa Press... who slipped and broke her right foot...

One of the always-in-a-rush Theresa is at home... and her foot will be in a cast for a month...

Those inveterate travelers... Peggy and Randy Christie are...

Lois... who is an award winning editor and popular with Chi-about to start packing again... headed for the South Pacific and a five month stay in the Orient...

They will board the President Cleveland in San Francisco on June 9... and will host a ship-board party in their lanai suite when the Cleveland reaches San Pedro two days later...

In Honolulu they will leave the ship and fly to Suva... and then on to Tahiti for a month... They will stay at Don the Beachcomber's new hotel and be there for Bastille Day festivities... Flo and Wally Brunmark are due to arrive there before the Christies leave...

Peggy and Randy will visit Samoa and other Islands and have reservations for the Blue Lagoon trip (10 people on a yacht for a four day visit to the off-the-beaten-trail islands)... and attending several festivals in the Inland Sea...

Back in Hawaii they will board the Cleveland again going on to Japan for a two month stay... returning home via the President Cleveland...

Harold Maundrell is vacationing here at The Howard Manor... For many years manager of the Colonial House... before it became the Howard Manor... he is now manager of College Hotel in Berkeley...

Traveling man Ray Corliss is off again... this time to Montana and the Milton Pierce Ranch... and then the two head for British Columbia... on a business trip...

Palm Springs gets two kinds of visiting press... the ones who want nothing but sun and swimming and sleep and avoid people... and the working press who go to the Chamber of Commerce route... writing features on unique Palm Springs houses and Palm Springs as a way of the life... and what Chicagoans, Seattleites or Portlanders are doing here...

One of the latest is Lois Baur... society editor for Chicago American who has been visiting the Norbert Chaplicks out at Thunderbird... Swimming and tennis and relaxing in the sun engrossed her holiday here... but her hostess arranged a luncheon meeting for us... and Blanche Hale and Dotie Buckingham joined us at the Racquet Club one noon time...

THE CRAZIEST DREAM party which closed the Racquet Club Sunday night, inspired another kind of dream for these two, Judy Scherer and Charles Offer, who chartered a plane at the airport and flew to Las Vegas for an early morning wedding in the Gretna Green Chapel there. Major and Mrs. Robert Smith accompanied them; witnessed the wedding; and joined them for a wedding breakfast at Sahara Hotel. The bride is the widow of the late Tutor Scherer and the bridegroom is president and founder of Budget Finance Corporation of Los Angeles, east coast, and Honolulu, where they go on a honeymoon before taking off on an around the world cruise. Louisiana Senator Vacations in The Village at The Manor

Senator G. M. Wormser of Lafayette, Louisiana, is among vacationers at The Howard Manor.

The Manor which is desert headquarters for visitors from all over the United States will, according to Ernest Glaser, general manager of both the Manor and The Pepper Tree Inn, remain in full operation throughout the summer. Also remaining open will be Miss Dorothy Rosen as resident manager.

Two top flight orchestras will continue to appear nightly in the Manor Room and the Celebrity Lounge for dining and dancing. Both rooms have recently been completely air refrigerated for the comfort of summer dwellers and visitors.

Opening Monday night the 18th will be the Frank Grace orchestra which will appear throughout the summer. Already heard nightly in the Celebrity Lounge is the Celebrity Trio which opened their cago socialites... probably has parties on her proscribed list when she's on vacation (a symptom I recognize)... but when I found she hadn't even been indoctrinated on the beauties of Palm Springs... and hadn't even heard of the Palm Springs hat... I should have done something about it...

It's only because... the biggest winter season in history has left me feeling much the same way engagement earlier this week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Wallace III of Oceanside are among Manor vacationers currently enjoying dining and dancing pleasures at the Manor as well as lazy hours poolside. There too, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erickson and Mrs. K. C. Moffett of Fullerton, while down from Los Angeles are Mr. and Mrs. O. Wayne Lunn, Mr. and Mrs. John Loser, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kantrowe, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hull.

William Butler Jr., is a vacationer from New York City; from Bell are Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Risvold; San Bernardino, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hughes; Downey, Miss Suzanne King; North Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dreyfuss and their daughter Jo Ann; Beverly Hills, Eugene B. Rodney, Mr. Rodney is a producer for Columbia Screen Gems. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis I. May of 514 Calle Roca, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren of Los Angeles.

Finchy PTA Honors Its Officers

Katherine Finchy P-TA honored retiring and incoming board members at a luncheon meeting at the Biltmore on Tuesday. Conducting the meeting was the new president Mrs. Cy Ostad. Attending as an honored guest was Principal Chester Sproule.

Following the much enjoyed food, many plans for the coming year were made. Among these were a tea for the teachers to be hosted by board members about two weeks after school begins in the fall. Also prominent in the planning was to appoint a member of the group to attend all school board meetings with the idea that better informed members contribute to the overall working efficiency of the entire school system, which inevitably benefits the individual school child.

Mrs. Mel Crowell gave a short report on the convention in Los Angeles which she attended in the absence of Mrs. Ostad, and detailed information will be given at the next regular meeting for the benefit of the general membership.

Mrs. Gerald Fostvedt reminded members of the School Board Election noting that the P-TA does not take political sides but is constantly working for good legislation for better schools, and urging members to exercise their privilege in the right to vote regardless of their sympathies.

A meeting of the executive board and committee chairmen was announced for 10 a.m. Tuesday, May 26, at the home of the president, 1545 Mel Ave.

Attending the luncheon meeting were: Helen Goundry, Millie Ostad, Lucille Fostvedt, Shirley Strickland, Norma Huffman, Elsie Judd, Betty Deal, Betty Muhlick, Ande Crowell, Jane Edwards, and the principal Chester Sproule.

Not Henpecked

ELK RIVER, Minn. (UPI) — Hens aren't necessarily henpecked, according to researchers who found that chickens pecked together are constantly fighting to decide who bosses whom.

Poultry experts at the Nutrena Feeds' research farm here said the "bosses" monopolize feed, water and nests, sometimes even cowering the lowly into starvation.

Council Refuses Offer of Park

Palm Springs City Council last night turned down an offer by George Alexander to give the city three-fifths of an acre for a city park in the Racquet Club Estates, and then took "no action" on a recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Board to hold a $750,000 city park acquisition bond issue.

Alexander, in a letter to the council, said that he would build and equip the park if the city would take it over and maintain it, but due to the city's lack of funds and the fact that it actually would be a private park for the individual improvement, council voted against it.

But Councilwoman Ruth Hardy asked that a letter of appreciation to Alexander be mailed. She said that the smallness of the proposed area, and the fact that it was bounded by two main roads, did not prove it good as a park for children.

The Parks and Recreation Board has asked the council to run a $750,000 bond election to acquire and build local parks in the area, but the council did not take action on the request last night.

WELWOOD MURRAY OFFERS MANY COOL SUMMER BOOKS

By FRANCES A. CASSIDY

As summer approaches and it grows too warm for more strenuous activities, the desire of many of us is to spend as much time as possible relaxing in a cool spot with an iced drink in one hand and a diverting novel in the other.

A number of such novels, guaranteed not to overtax us mentally or disturb us emotionally, yet sufficiently absorbing to hold our interest to the very last page, are to be found among the new spring books at the Welwood Murray Memorial Library.

THE HAPPY SUMMER DAYS by Sue Kaufman is particularly suitable vacation reading since it is concerned with an island holiday shared by a close-knit group of young married people and their friends. A first novel, THE HAPPY SUMMER DAYS is distinguished by its author's wit and originality and by her ability to distinguish the small matters that are important from the big ones that are ridiculous.

Strictly escapist, a combination of realism and magic that might have come from the pages of THE ARABIAN NIGHTS. BETI, by Daphne Rooke, forsakes her usual locale of South Africa for India. It is the story of two young girls, Lark and her cousin Beti.

and of the contrasts and conflicts between them, which are finally resolved after many strange and perilous adventures.

AGAINST AN EQUALLY exotic locale, Jon Godden, sister of Rumer Godden, tells the story of MRS. PANOPOLIS, 79 years of rich, headstrong living behind her. From the moment her ship drops off the coast of Portuguese East Africa, Mrs. Panopolis senses an immediate affinity for the coral island that lies ahead. And before the day is over she learns in dramatic fashion what the island has to tell her.

For those who wish to enrich their summer reading diet with something a little more substantial than the foregoing, the two following novels are highly recommended.

THE WATCH THAT ENDS THE NIGHT by Hugh MacLennan, one of Canada's foremost writers, whose style strongly suggests J. P. Marquand's, is a penetrating and unusual novel with metaphysical overtones.

IN THE DEEPLY satisfying marriage of George and Katherine Stewart there is a constant shared danger — Katherine's incurable illness which may at any time cause her death. They share also a powerful memory of Jerome Martell, Katherine's first husband and George Stewart's closest friend, a brilliant doctor and a man passionately concerned with social justice, presumed to have died in a Nazi prison camp. It is the sudden return of Jerome Martell to Montreal that precipitates the crisis which forms the basis for this thoughtful and provocative novel.

Sylvia Ashton-Warner, who has spent all her life in New Zealand, has written a brilliant and unforgettable first novel in SPINSTER, the story of a compassionate, impulsive, exceptionally gifted teacher in an outpost school, who is a genius at her job of curbing the ferocities, soothing the spirits and goading the intellects of her 70-odd pupils, most of them Maoris. Anna Vorontsov's difficulties lie, not in her work, but in the world beyond — with men, with a young teacher who finally kills himself, with an old love.

THIS IS ALSO a wonderful book about children, these tiny Maoris, bred in an ancient legend-haunted tradition, whose first steps into the world of European ideas are being taken under Anna's inspired guidance, their lives subtly and intricately linked with hers.

But above all this novel is distinguished by its author's unique portrait of the teacher as an artist — an artist striving at her craft, struggling against orthodoxy, prey to her own emotions, at once brave and frightened, but sustained by the power and integrity of her vision.

Army Launches 18th Jupiter

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — (UPI) — The Army successfully launched its 18th Jupiter ballistic missile early today. Air Force troops, who will take over the missile when the Army completes its test firing, participated in the firing for the fourth consecutive time.

The 52-ton potential hydrogen bomb carrier roared down the Atlantic tracking range in its 18th successful flight in 19 tests.

The Army's announcement of success was interpreted to mean the Jupiter, streaking about 1,500 miles downrange at 10,000 miles per hour, dropped its wedge-shaped nose cone in the pre-selected impact area.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Not long ago we moved from the city to the suburbs. I told my husband that everybody would be more friendly in the suburbs and that he should get out and be more friendly, too. At my suggestion he spoke to the man across the street. My husband said the man immediately started calling him "Pop". I do know that while working on our lawn, the man came over to see us and referred to my husband as "Old Pop here." My husband says he doesn't care to make friends with people like that. I think he is wrong, but he refuses to see it my way. What do you think?

DEAR FRIENDLY: "Old Pop there" shouldn't be so sensitive if he wants to make friends with his neighbors. People have been known to call their neighbors corner things than "Pop!"

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 years old and have been going out with a man about 40. We love each other but his past is all messed up. He was married twice. His second wife got a Mexican divorce which he isn't sure is good here. When he was married the first time he lied about his name and the girl lied about her age so he isn't sure whether that marriage was legal or not. Then he is afraid he got married the second time before the divorce was final. There are so many complications I wonder if we can ever get married? We are waiting for things to clear up. What else can we do?

DEAR WANTING: Nothing "clears up" (except the weather) all by itself. Your boyfriend needs a lawyer to "clear up" his marital status, and if you're wise, you will clear out of the picture until everything is crystal clear.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with the advice you gave "Heartbroken." Why should a wife have to get a new hair-do, buy a fancy negligee and throw her arms around her husband and say, "Here I am, Honey!" We women still have some pride left. I have so much love in me to give and I am starving for affection. Men are about the dumbest animals in the world.

STARVING FOR LOVE DEAR STARVING: You are mistaken, Madame. The only way to get love is to give it. The dumbest animal in the world is the one who has a bale of hay in front of him, but starves to death because he's too proud to help himself.

DEAR ABBY: I have been looking for the answer to this in all the etiquette books, but I can't seem to find it. Please don't think I'm ridiculous but is it proper to eat the lettuce and parsley off the salad? My friend and I were out to dine and when he finished with his salad there was not one speck of anything left on his salad plate. Is this correct?

DEAR PROPER: It is perfectly all right to eat the lettuce and parsley in the salad. (What delightful habits we learn from the rabbits!)

DEAR ABBY: Will you do a couple of thousand homesick guys a great big favor? Ask the guys back home to write to us soldier boys stuck out here in Korea. Honestly, Abby, most of the guys are kids 18 and 19 years old who have never been away from home before, and you should see the tears in their eyes when they get nothing at mail call. Tell your readers if they have a friend or relative or neighbor who has somebody serving overseas to please call up his parents and get his address and write to him. Home-sickness is the worst sickness in the world, and being forgotten on top of it is enough to kill a guy.

P.F.C. FRANKIE F. (TAEJON, KOREA)

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 years old and have been going steady with this particular boy for over a year. This summer my steady and his aunt and uncle are planning a trip to Mexico. They invited me to go along. His aunt, who is about 30, has agreed to chaperone us on this trip. When I asked my mother if I could go, she flatly refused me. When I asked her for a reason, she said the answer was NO and she didn't want to talk any more about it! Now I feel like she doesn't trust me. Do you see anything wrong with going on this trip with my boyfriend and an adult chaperone?

DEAR NOT: I agree with your mother, but she should have given you the reasons for her answer. Of course she trusts you, but she doesn't want you complicating your young life with unnecessary temptations. Even steel melts when subjected to enough heat.

MEDICAL TECHNICIANS watch Zaddie Bunker's reaction to speeds and pressures as she travels through a simulated flight in a jet aircraft. At the same time Zaddie takes her actual flight, another F-100 Super Jet will be christened the "City of Palm Springs."

T/SGT. ED GARRISON shows Mrs. Bunker the instrument panel of a Super Sabre Jet F-100 and explains it to her. Mrs. Bunker spent three days at George Air Force Base undergoing tests for her flight, and passed all of them with flying colors.

MAJOR ROBINSON RISNER, Korean jet ace, and the man who will fly with Zaddie through the sound barrier, talks with her after she completed her tests. The plane Zaddie will fly in will be called "Zaddie's Rockin' Chair IV."

HONORARY COLONEL Zaddie Bunker, having passed all her tests, climbs into "Zaddie's Rockin' Chair IV" for her super-sonic flight. Palm Springs residents, visiting GAFB, will see many Air Force demonstrations on May 16. (U. S. Air Force Photos)

TEN HELICOPTER RIDES OFFERED

GEORGE AFB — Spectators at the George Air Force Base Armed Forces Day celebration May 16 will have an opportunity to take a ride in an Air Force H-19 helicopter, if they are lucky.

Colonel Darrell S. Cramer, AF Day Project officer here, said that ten door prizes will be given away during the Open House and Air Show Saturday afternoon at George AFB—the prizes will be the whirlwind rides.

VISITORS DESIRING rides may clip out special coupon from the copy of the George Journal, unofficial base publication, which will be handed them as they arrive at the base, and deposit it in box at the reviewing stand on the flight line.

GATES OF THE BASE are set to open at 10 a. m. Early visitors will see displays of many of the Air Force's latest aircraft and other exhibits.

The giant air show will begin at 1 p. m. Events include flying exhibition of fighter, bomber, refueling and reconnaissance flying.

A simulated nuclear bomb will be dropped from an F-100 Super Sabre (there will be no danger from atomic radiation or fallout); F-102 Delta Daggers will stage a scramble and intercept of an enemy aircraft over the field; the new F-104 Starfighter will show its tremendous hypersonic speed and an aerial refueling demonstration will demonstrate latest Air Force world-wide flight techniques.

ZADDIE BUNKER, world's first flying great-grandmother, will receive a jet indoctrination flight in an F-100 Super Sabre aircraft. The plane is named "Zaddie's Rockin' Chair IV."

An F-100 will be christened "City of Palm Springs" by the 308th Tactical Fighter Squadron during adoption ceremonies.

Admission is free and everyone is invited to attend.

Better Hurry! With Spring here, MG's head for the open road, (leaving very few behind in the showroom). Why be last in line?
